

February 26, 2014

Front Royal 2382 Puts ENF Gratitude Grant to Good Use

Exalted Ruler Dennis Henline presents donation to Samuels Library Youth Services Supervisor Michal Ashby.

Exalted Ruler Dennis Henline reads to the children while Tamara Houde, Library Children's Assistant, looks on.

Front Royal 2382 is putting the $2,000 Gratitude Grant awarded them by the Elks National Foundation to good use for youth in the community and surrounding areas.

On Saturday, February 22, 2014, Dennis Henline, Exalted Ruler, visited Samuels Public Library in Front Royal, VA to read a book to the 15 children and 10 parents in attendance at "Storytime." While there, he donated a check for $1,000 to be used to purchase children's books and supplies. This is the third consecutive year Front Royal Lodge has been able to make a donation to the Children's Library.

On February 25, 2014 Lodge 2382 donated 1,100 Elks Safety Glasses to Warren County and Shenandoah County schools. Accepting on behalf of Triplett Tech in Mount Jackson is Barry Arey, (far left), Principal and Shenandoah County CTE Supervisor. Next to him is Warren County Carpentry Teacher Mark Robinson accepting on behalf of Blue Ridge Tech School on Luray Avenue in Front Royal. Far right is Dennis Henline, Exalted Ruler of the Elks Lodge. To his right, in the front row is Katie Rice, CTE Supervisor of Warren County Schools. The students are from Carpentry Class I. The safety glasses will be used in both tech schools, Skyline High School, Warren County High School and Warren County Middle School.