Police Called to Youth Camp!

Virginia Elks Association Youth Camp
Millboro, Virginia

The Camp Ranger, Mike Journell, had to call the Bath County Sheriff's Department because of Karyl Bailey from Roanoke 197.

SHOCKING!!!

Well, maybe not!

Roanoke 197 recently made a HUGE donation to the Youth Camp and, William Hussey and John Cannon attended the meeting and realized that, unfortunately, their vehicle was too small to transport the donated goods back to the camp. After they requested that the lodge store the donations until arrangements could be made a volunteer, Karly Bailey, offered to deliver the donations to the camp on the following Sunday when she had to be in the area for other reasons.

Showing up at the camp on Sunday morning and in the process of unloading all of the gifts she somehow accidentally locked her keys in her Tahoe. After trying several unsuccessful options Mike Journell decided to call the Bath County Sheriff's Department for assistance. They responded and opened her vehicle to retrieve her keys and get her on the way back home.

It wasn't what she expected when she volunteered her time and travel to deliver the goods but she reports that she enjoyed the time for conversation with Mike about the history of the camp. She had time on hand to tour the camp and has no regrets about it. She recommends that others should do it but make sure that they have a spare set of keys available.

KUDOS to Karyl for everything she did for the camp!!
